

| Close the Gap

The faster you report a loss, the greater the benefits.

Why Reducing the Time Gap to Report Claims Benefits You

- Claims reported within 3 days of the injury produce better results and—ultimately—cost less, according to MSIG USA data.
- Our Preferred Provider Networks can provide appropriate medical care quickly.
- Your employee morale remains intact.

What Are the Consequences of Late Reporting

- It increases the potential for litigation.
- It compromises a timely and thorough investigation of the claim.
- It increases the potential your employees will receive medical treatment from a non-preferred provider.
- It can result in higher costs (see graph)

How You Can Achieve the Best Results

- Educate employees on the importance of prompt claims reporting.
- Report injuries to MSIG USA immediately.
- Establish a goal of reporting 80% of ALL claims within 3 days.
- Stay involved in the claims process.
- Post a list of Preferred Providers in a prominent location.

The High Cost of Untimely Claims Reporting Change in Average Incurred Per Claim

The graph above is based on a study of MSIG USA's claims data and clearly indicates the impact of prompt reporting on controlling workers' compensation costs.

01 BE PROACTIVE

- Report all claims to MSIG USA within 24 hours

02 COORDINATE CARE

- Ensure injured employees receive prompt and appropriate medical care

03 MANAGE THE RISK

- Develop an internal loss reporting program for injured employees which includes investigating and documenting the incident
